A. S. WATSON & Co., LIMITED.

THE HONGKONG DISPENSARY,

ESTABLISHED A.D. 1841.

WATSON'S
IMPROVED CARBO-CAMPHYLENE
is Distinguished by a White Label in addition to the Red One which states that is miscible in Water in all proportions.

THE IMPROVED CARBO-CAMPHYLENE

ITS MISCIBILITY IN WATER

Combined with its Agreeable and Refreshing odour will Commend it to the Public for General Use as it is an Elegant, Agreeable, and Perfect Disinfectant for Sick-rooms, Bed-rooms, Bath-rooms and all necessary vessels therein. For all purposes it should be diluted freely with Water.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

As a Safeguard in visiting—

A little sprinkled on the handkerchief or cotton wool and kept in front of the nose and mouth in infected rooms or in passing through infected districts is strongly recommended.

For washing the face and hands—A teaspoonful to a gallon of water.

For the Bath—A tablespoonful or less.

For Sick-rooms and Bed-rooms—A teaspoonful or more distributed in saucers round the room or evaporated by the aid of a lamp.

For Sprinkling or Spray—A wineglassful to a pint of water.

AS A MOUTH WASH.

A few drops in a tumbler of water.

FOR WASHING DOGS

A tablespoonful to a bucket of water.

THE IMPROVED CARBO-CAMPHYLENE

Converts the waste bath water into a Valuable Disinfectant which in passing through the downspouts and stench-traps destroys mosquito germs and removes bad smells. Its use in the bath has a most beneficial effect on the skin and greatly reduces the risk of infection.

(Via Southern Line.)

LONDON, July 16, 1894.

CHOLERA IN EUROPE.

There is a general spread of cholera in Russia. Great alarm is felt at St. Petersburg, where 300 deaths have occurred during the past week.

ANARCHISTS ON THE WAR PATH.

A plot has been discovered at Toulon, the object of which was to destroy the Arsenal and to burn the new ironclad Carnot.

FRENCH NATIONAL FETE.

Owing to the recent assassination of M. Carnot the Fête of the Bastille was observed to a very limited extent in Paris and the provinces.

COMMERCIAL FAILURES.

The firm of Ernsthausen & Co., Calcutta, has failed. The failure is attributed to jute failures in Dundee, and the low price of indigo.

THE COREAN DIFFICULTY.

China has also accepted the proffered mediation of Great Britain.

HONOURS TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

Dr Williams, the accoucheur to H.R.H. the Duchess of York, receives a baronetcy.

YESTERDAY Mr Sercombe Smith took over the duties of Acting Post Master General, pending the return of Mr A. K. Travers; and Mr G. S. Northcote, who has been acting for him, returned to his proper post of assistant P.M.G. Mr Sercombe Smith's place as Assistant Registrar General is filled temporarily by Mr F. J. Baddeley. No further 'ringing the changes' is reported at present.

THE police report concerning an applicant for a wine and spirit license in Hongkong was pre-eminently unsatisfactory, says the Shanghai Mercury, and in no place else under the sun but Hongkong would a license, under those circumstances, have been granted to him. It was, however, and the Chairman of the Justices then sitting made the sage remark that by granting the man a license he would be more under police supervision. It is generally supposed that licenses of such a nature are only given to people of reputable character, but such is not the idea of Hongkong Justices of the Peace, who have a law unto themselves.

THE practice of defacing bank-notes is not an uncommon one, but, as a rule, the defacements are of a harmless sort and only serve to raise a laugh. Yesterday, a $5 note of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank came into our possession bearing upon the back, in large letters, the following inscription:—'In Memory of ——, a black heart brute of Queen's College.' The note is dated 2nd January 1891, and is No. 322,348. We, of course, refrain from giving the name of the gentleman. The use of bank-notes for venting personal spite cannot be too severely censured, and now that the matter has been called to their attention the managers of the local banks will doubtless see to it that no notes, with objectionable inscriptions, are allowed to circulate.

THE Undaunted will not be ready to go North till Friday.

THE reserve ship Wyvern is being overhauled, and is found to be badly infected with white ants.

THE Tientsin Gas Company has paid a dividend of 7 per cent., paid Tls. 300 as Directors' fees, and has carried forward Tls. 868.59.

WE have received the Returns of Trade and Trade Reports for 1893, published by the Imperial Maritime Customs. The report by Mr H. E. Hobson, Commissioner of Customs for Kowloon, was published in the China Mail of June 28.

A PUNJAUBI private in the Hongkong Regiment, named Surfraz, shot himself fatally in the chest with his rifle while on guard duty about 3 a.m. yesterday. He had recently had bad news from his native village. An inquest will be held.

G. MCGRADY, seaman of the Nova Scotian ship Selkirk, was committed by Commander Hastings at the Magistracy to-day to take his trial at the Sessions on a charge of having committed an unnatural offence while at sea in that vessel, at various dates.

THE 'rogue and vagabond' who was sent to gaol yesterday, as we reported, simply because 'the cat came back' and a police sergeant thought the coolie was stealing the animal, committed suicide this morning by strangling himself with his pigtail. One would not have thought an old offender so sensitive to suspicion.

THE Chinese Mail, (Wah Tze Yat Po) received a Peking telegram yesterday to the following effect:—In reply to the memorial submitted by H.E. Kang Ngai, the Governor of Kwang Tung Province, praying that an official be appointed to act for him during his absence while he is away to Peking in connection with Her Majesty the Empress Dowager's Birthday Celebrations, a Decree was issued on the 13th instant enjoining Viceroy Li Han-chang to take up the Governorship in addition to his own duties during the absence of Governor Kang Ngai.

THE Warrant Officers' Club held a smoking concert last night, at the Club Rooms, Blue Buildings. Mr G. Martlew presided, and there was a large attendance of members and friends. The Undaunted men, in whose honour the concert was held, attended in good numbers, and contributed largely to the enjoyment of the evening. The Chairman, in opening the proceedings, said that these social meetings were intended to relieve the monotony of existence in Hongkong, and to bring the two services together; he called on new supporters of the Club to come forward, remembering always that 'unity is strength.' The programme, which was then proceeded with, was as follows:—

Overture		Mr Isbell.
Simon the Cellarer		Mr Harvey, A.S.C.
The King's Champion		Mr Bridger.
The Village Blacksmith		Mr Wingent.
Lovely Woman		Mr A. Cox, R.E.
The Green Lanes of England		Mr Fitzmaurice (Undaunted.)

Never interduce yer Doner to a Pal		Mr C. T. Robinson.
Recitation		Mr W. Farmer.
Up Comes Jones		Mr Malcolm Duncan
Old King Cole		Mr Jarvis.
The Jubilee		Mr Broad (Undaunted.)
The Soldier		Mr A. Cox, R.E.
Father O'Flynn		Mr Harvey, A.S.C.
Sunshine follows Rain		Mr Wingent.
My Playmate Jack and I		Mr Mitchell.
For ever and for ever		Mr Isbell.
Annie Laurie		Mr Martlew.
Gold		Mr Smith.
O' a' the Airts		Mr Wilson, R.E.
The Longshoreman		Mr Bridger.

At the conclusion, hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the visitors who had assisted, especially Messrs Farmer, Robinson, Bridger, and Duncan, whose contributions to the programme were particularly enjoyable. Several members also spoke in cordial welcome of the Undaunted men, who proved themselves indeed a valuable acquisition. The proceedings concluded about midnight with votes of thanks to the Chairman and Executive Officers, to whom great credit was due for the efficiency of all the arrangements.

OWING to the trouble between China and Japan, says a native paper, the Fuh-kien authorities have ordered some Lok Ching battalions to proceed to the capital, and braves are being enlisted to strengthen the forces in Fuh kien. The Ming-ngan Forts are daily practising with their big guns.

CAPTAIN Wallace of the C. M. S. N. Co.'s steamer Fungshun has been presented by H. E. Li Hung-chang with a button in recognition of the services rendered by the Fungshun while engaged by the Viceroy in the late naval review. The China Gazette also learns that H. E. gave a month's extra pay to all on board the Fungshun.

AN Australian newspaper is responsible for the following:—One of the latest crazes is an unhealthy fancy which has developed among certain smart London women for being photographed as undraped classic and pictorial celebrities. Numerous studios are in active work, and are conducted both by male and female operators. Pictures of Andromeda and Aspasia are the favorite subjects, and every girl who has a figure seems burning with a desire to see it presented as an original of these celebrated studies. The photographs get passed around among the girls, their brothers get hold of them, the servants steal them, and ultimately they find their way into a photographer's store labelled the countess of So-and-so, or Lady Blank as So-and-so. There have already been several scandals of this kind, and some photographs have been bought up for their weight in five-pound notes. The mania still goes on apace, however, and where it will end goodness only knows.

THE PLAGUE IN HONGKONG.

A Chinese servant, living with his family in the basement of College Chambers (where the Education Department is now located) died last night of plague. Only a week ago these quarters had been carefully inspected by the Sanitary Superintendent, who reported 'all well.'

Mr Gensberger is now in the delirium stage of the bubonic plague, and it will be two or three days before he can be called out of danger.

Mr Francis has received from the hon. secretary of the Engineers' Institution the following letter:—

Dear Sir,—Enclosed please find cheque for $133, the amount collected at a smoking concert at the Institution on Saturday, 14th inst. It is requested that this amount be expended at your discretion for the benefit of the soldiers who have been employed in this city under the sanitary authorities.

I have been asked to convey the grateful thanks of the members to the military, both officers and men, for the great services they have rendered to the Colony.

Thanking you in anticipation for distributing this amount.

I remain, Yours truly,

W. K. WYLIE.

As soon as the news of Dr Aoyama's illness arrived, the Mikado conferred on him the 4th Order of Merit and the decoration of the Sacred Treasure. Dr Ishigami, who is the other Japanese doctor attacked by the plague, was honored by the Emperor with the 5th Order of Merit and the decoration of the Imperial Sacred Treasure.

There would appear to be some dubiety as to the future movements of Professor Kitasato and his Japanese colleagues. The Japan Gazette of the 9th inst. says:—'Mr Nakagawa, the Japanese Consul at Hongkong, telegraphed to the Home Department as follows:—The Governor of Hongkong desires me to convey to the Japanese Government his deepest concern at the illness of Drs Aoyama and Ishigami, and also to state that not only the Hongkong Government, but the whole medical world has gained much by the services of these two doctors. His Excellency is also anxious that Dr Kitasato and his party should leave their hotel and become guests of the Hongkong Government Office. He assures me every possible attention will be paid to the two doctors in their illness. The physicians and nurses of the Hongkong Government Hospital and doctors in private practice are doing everything in their power in the treatment of the two patients. Mr Mutsu sent on Thursday a telegram to the Governor thanking him cordially for his kindness, and also instructed Mr Nakagawa to convey his heartfelt thanks to the hospital staff and others. Dr Takagi Tomoe was to leave this morning for Hongkong, where he will assist Dr Kitasato. He was for some time Director of the Kagoshima Hospital, where he was very popular; but on Dr Kitasato's return from Europe, he resigned his post, to the regret of the people of Kagoshima, and studied Bacteriology under him. He became Vice-director of Dr Kitasato's Hospital. When Dr Kitasato proceeded to Hongkong, he left the hospital in Dr Takagi's care. But on the news of Drs Aoyama and Ishigami's illness reaching Tokyo, Dr Takagi decided to go to Hongkong himself and take up the work they were prevented from continuing. Mr Inouye, Minister of Education, and others are collecting subscriptions, which they propose to present him with, to defray his expenses at Hongkong.'

The Yiji Shimpo states that Dr Kitasato having wired his intention to return, messages were in consequence exchanged between Drs Takagi and Kitasato, and in the meantime the former has not left.

We hear that Professor Kitasato leaves Hongkong for Japan on Friday next. His valuable researches can be carried on in Japan, carrying with him, as he does, the materials for the prosecution of his studies. Professor Aoyama is now believed to be out of danger, although his recovery will be slow.

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

(Before His Honour Mr A. G. Wise, Acting Puisne Judge.)

Tuesday, July 17.

CHINESE CHEAP LABOUR.

Ah Tin Fook sued Millar and Co., plumbers and contractors, for $132 alleged to be due for work done. Mr C. Ewens was for the plaintiff, and Mr C. D. Wilkinson was for the defendant.

The evidence showed that the Wharf and Godown Co., Lim., made a contract with Millar and Co. for the scraping and tarring of their piers and timbers between high and low water mark. Millar and Co. contracted with the plaintiff for a supply of labour, and owing to the peculiar nature of the work a large number of men were to be put on when the tide was low; there were two particularly low tides, only liable to occur about once a year, and then the very lowest part of the work was to be done. The woodwork was covered with barnacles about three inches long, and under them was a hard shell, which all had to be chipped and scraped off before the tar was applied. The Godown Company fixed the 10th June as the day when the work was to be satisfactorily finished; and as it was not, the contract was broken. The plaintiff had demanded $150 extra on account of the scarcity of labour, and he was able to prevent the defendant from getting anyone else; ultimately $75 extra was agreed on, making the total $355, of which $113 was paid.

Mr F. A Brown, wharfinger, swore that none of the work had been done satisfactorily at all; the Chinese persistently shirked the proper scraping of the lower portion, and there was none at all really scraped; the tar was 'slopped on' over barnacles, mud, and everything. Witness had long experience with Chinese workmen, and knew that if they could possibly shirk the harder part of the work they would do it somehow.

Evidence was also given by the plaintiff and his employees.

Mr Ewens addressed the Court, urging that Mr Brown's interference was unauthorised; any complaint as to the plaintiff's work should have been made by Mr Millar, and the Chinese evidence showed that he had not complained; the men were ordered off by Mr Brown. The contract did not specify how the scraping was to be done; it only stipulated for scraping and tarring.

His Lordship—But the tar did not stop on.

Mr Ewens maintained that the contract should have gone into details as to what the defendant now said was required; and that would have made a great difference in the price. Perhaps the coolies might have done the work pretty badly, but most Chinese could only be expected to do so.

Mr Wilkinson said that as a matter of fact there was a former contract which did give all the details referred to by Mr Ewens, and this was a shorter agreement supplementary to the first. This contract stipulated for the job to be done 'in a workmanlike manner,' whereas it was abominably done, and Mr Millar had complained from the first, and said what ought to be done. By the faulty work of the plaintiff, the defendant had lost not only his contract with the Godown Company, but also $113 out of pocket in advances paid on account, the value of the tar wasted, and loss of time. He was really entitled to bring an action for damages against the defendant.

His Lordship—You may discuss that another time, not now.

After a little further discussion his Lordship delivered judgment as follows—The plaintiff sues for $132 balance alleged to be due under a contract for the scraping and tarring of two wharves owned by the Wharf and Godown Company. I cannot help thinking, notwithstanding what Mr Ewens says, that the contract must mean that the work should be done so that the tar remains on, whereas the evidence shows clearly that it did not, because it was improperly done, neither scraped nor tarred properly, and the tar washed off immediately. Defendant states that there was a verbal agreement for 100 men to be put on, and plaintiff says 25, but the evidence shows that at certain times there were not more than 13. Plaintiff says no fault was found with his work until 20th June, that is after the time fixed; but there is ample evidence to the contrary. I think therefore under clause 4 of the contract defendant was justified in putting an end to his contract with the plaintiff, and I do not think the plaintiff can succeed in this case. Judgment for defendant with costs.

BRITAIN'S LATEST MORAL CRUSADE.

The latest British sensation is the anti-gambling crusade. Once again the little homeland is being stirred to its very depths by the oratory of the Anti-Gambling League. From pulpit and platform, denunciations are being hurled at the devoted head of that favourite of fortune, Lord Rosebery, and a section of the Press is lending its aid to 'the saintly pioneers of this new crusade of officious despotism.' It is pitiful to see this attempt to bring about another fit of false morality. Natural religion no one could object to reasonably. No one could be found to raise a voice against the performance of good deeds, the performance of deeds which would add to the well-being of a people. What lends itself to ridicule is the cant which is the motor power of these periodic bursts of passionate morality. We have had experience in Hongkong of an anti-gambling crusade, and can, therefore, sympathise with the people at home over their most recent affliction. With no race but the Anglo-Saxon does such a tendency to cant exist. More than fifty years ago, Emerson, whose discernment of English character was, on the whole, reliable, wrote—'The English are dreadfully given to cant. The English and Americans cant beyond all other nations. The French relinquish all that industry to them. What is so odious as the polite bows to God in our books and newspapers? The popular press is flagitious in the exact measure of its sanctimony, and the religion of the day is a theatrical Sinai, where the thunders are supplied by the property man. The fanaticism and hypocrisy create satire.' Horse-racing is the principal objective in the present attack, with Lord Rosebery, as the Premier and the fortunate owner of a Derby winner, as 'the head and front.' We will not deny that there are on the racecourses of England speculative transactions which end in the transfer of money from one pocket to another. It is not horse-racing, of course, but it is one of the accessories of horse-racing, and as such is denounced. But we have not read yet that the Anti-Gambling League has protested against the holding of bazaars in aid of church funds where the unfortunate male party is literally robbed of his money; we have read no denunciations of the harmful church lottery. These matters, we suppose, should not be mentioned in the same breath with horse-racing. The rabid denunciators see no incongruity in their present position. Nor do they see the mistake of endeavouring to divorce the honourable supporters of sport from the Turf—because of a tendency in some people to indulge in speculation. 'Rashly attempt to convince them,' says a writer, 'of the futility of their stupid policy of repression, point out to them the obvious advantages derived from the presence of men of high distinction and unimpeachable honour as leaders of a great national sport, and the expostulation is simply accepted as evidence of a perverse desire to protect and perpetuate the admitted evils of reckless gambling. This ascription of evil motives to all who refuse to join the latest campaign of cant is quite characteristic of a growing spirit of sanctimonious arrogance which threatens, if unchecked, to develop into a sour tyranny as intolerable as that of the first Puritan epoch.' It is intolerance of this sort which spoils many a good cause. There are people who find fault with the Premier because he is not above cracking a joke; intemperance has afforded many reformers an excuse for indulging in intemperate language; card-playing is synonymous in the minds of some good souls for card-sharping. We have even heard a young missionary, full of the enthusiasm of a new-born religious fervour, inveigh against an Episcopal clergyman for singing 'Cockles and Mussels' to his fellow-voyagers. Oh, the sinfulness of it! That is cant. So was the feeling which prompted the peasantry of Scotland to regard a pack of playing-cards—'the devil's book,' as it was called—with sanctimonious horror. Two blacks do not make a white, but when 'the elder of the kirk' who refuses to allow playing-cards in his house, reels home, somewhat inebriated, from the village inn on Saturday night and takes his place in a front pew of church on Sunday morning, it is impossible to refrain from setting up odious comparisons. And if not intemperance in drinking, why allow intemperance in eating? The idea is not ours. It was 'worked' more than a year ago by Geo. R. Sims in that high-toned publication known as The Referee. If harm is wrought by intemperance in drinking, it is obvious, taking the myriads of quack advertisements as our criterion, that much harm is done by intemperate eating. If Britain is to push to their logical conclusions what Herbert Spencer has designated as our 'morality laws,' there is scarcely a phase of individual life which may not come under the condemnation and regulation of some such body as the Anti-Gambling League. After all, even assuming that gambling is an evil with no redeeming features, and that horse-racing is just as bad, and that Lord Rosebery is one of the blackest of black sheep, what have the ranters to do with him? His public duties have not been neglected, nor badly done; and his private affairs are his own. In the 'Pilgrim's Progress' there is absolute freedom of choice between the 'steep and rocky' and the 'Primrose way that leads to ——,' so that if Lord Rosebery chooses the broad and downward track, nobody else has a right to interfere.

CORRESPONDENCE.

ELGIN ROAD, KOWLOON.

To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL.'

Hongkong, July 16.

SIR,—Why does not the Acting Director of Public Works put this road in order? After the late rain it has become almost worse than before. I was obliged to take a ricksha yesterday as the mud was too thick to walk through. And why is the Chinese contractor allowed to make a stone and timber yard of the road? Also why is he permitted to let that dirty slush drain on to the road from one of his matsheds?—Yours,

OWLOON.

[It would be more to the purpose if our correspondent addressed H.E. the Governor on the subject. Ever since the wet season began we have referred frequently to the disgraceful condition of Elgin Road. We suppose the Acting Director of Public Works is above taking notice of complaints regarding public works.—ED. C.M.]

THE EDUCATION OF CHINESE IN HONGKONG.

The public generally have been so thoroughly saturated with the pervading topics of the Plague and the Korean embroglio, that it seems a relief to turn for a moment to lighter matters. We have before us the 'Educational Report' for Hongkong for the year 1893, and, in the light of recent events, it affords some ground for comment. The Hongkong Government set early to work to promote education in the Colony, and the result is now an elaborate Educational Department, which each year issues reports throwing much light on the social position and requirements of the Colony. In the various schools there, including those under as well as those not under Government supervision, there was during the year an attendance of no less than 12,123, so that practically every child in the Colony was undergoing some sort of school education. Of these fully one-half, 6,250, were entered as attending 102 'Grant in Aid' schools under European supervision, where a curriculum more or less Christian was provided, and 2,856 pupils attended 21 Government schools, where what is called a 'secular education' was provided. Outside this large proportion attending the schools immediately under the control of the Department, 2,596 pupils attended 144 purely Chinese schools, and 921 European schools not under supervision. In view of the fact that the occurrence of the plague this year has profoundly modified the whole of the social life of Hongkong, and has shown how many weak points there have been in the administration, this educational question is one that may well repay a thorough investigation. The weak point of the administration of the Government at Hongkong has ever been its attitude toward the Chinese residents. Quite aware of the prevalent vice (for vice it must in this category be called) of the Chinese to set up an imperium in imperio, it has allowed, under its very eyes, and within range of its ears, the Committee of the Tung-wa Hospital to form such a body, and to, from time to time, actually dictate to the Governor what course he must pursue. We do not deny that an association of Chinese possessing the confidence of their fellows might not be found extremely useful in the government of the colony, but the Board of Governors of an hospital, founded for widely different purposes, is not such a body. The interference of this body was one of the great difficulties in dealing with the plague, and there is little doubt that many of the incendiary notices that from time to time appeared were concocted either by or with the knowledge and connivance of this body. It is, therefore, not to be wondered at that this perpetually intermeddling institution should make its presence felt in the matter of education. Except for a limited number intended to pursue literature as a profession, or to enter official life, the Chinese as a nation place little store on education. For the ordinary purposes of business, a knowledge of reading and writing is, of course, required, but it seldom goes beyond the merest elements. The Committee of the Tung-wa Hospital, seeing that opportunities for education were being afforded by the Government, where knowledge, such as it is understood in Europe, was placed in reach of every child in the Colony, thought fit to counteract this influence; and the Committee, with a few reactionaries amongst the population, set themselves to institute a system of education wholly Chinese in its scope and its aims,—that is to say, in the first, it is restricted to the narrow curriculum of an ordinary Chinese school; and in the second, it is intended to make the rising generation as un-English as possible, and to instruct them in all those prejudices which have been of late years instrumental in stirring up ill-will and animosity, from the grassy plains of Mongolia to the shores of the Gulf of Tongking. Of these schools, Dr Eitel naively says that they are as much penetrated by religious teaching as any grant-in-aid school. It is here not the fact of teaching Buddhism or Taoism, or Confucianism, but that the system of education adopted naturally tends to make of the child born on British soil, not a British but a Chinese subject, and one moreover into whose mind has early been instilled hatred for the institutions under which he has grown up. The peculiarity most striking in the schools of Hongkong is their free nature,—the Colony finding nearly all the funds out of the ordinary revenue; all the Government schools, with the exception of Queen's College and the Girls' Central School, being free. Similarly the schools under the control of the various religious societies offer a Chinese education free, while seven of them in addition give a free English education. Counting the entire number receiving education, 63.24 per cent. received a purely Chinese education, 29.49 per cent. an English or Anglo-Chinese education; while 5.69 per cent. received an European education in the Chinese and 1.91 per cent. in the Portuguese languages. Now as the object of the State in affording education should be to bring up the rising generation so as to enable them to become good citizens, we fail to see how the 63.24 per cent. educated in Chinese entirely, not only in the language, but in Chinese exclusiveness and Chinese prejudices, are really any advantage to the State. The loose attachment, or rather the absence of all attachment, of the inhabitants of Chinese descent to those institutions to which for the most part they owed everything, was forcibly shown in their attitude during the prevalence of the plague. In the ordinary curriculum of the English schools, the Government exercises, supervision over the class-books, and such things as would encourage anti-English feeling would be at once expunged. In the Chinese Department it exercises no discrimination whatever. This attitude of the Government in training up at its own expense subjects for an alien power would be ridiculous, were it not suicidal. Sixty-three per cent. of the large sum of $67,000 were in fact paid towards alienizing the younger generation in the Colony. This strange attitude of the Hongkong Government, it is true, is not altogether unparalleled; we perceive something of the same evil in the West Indies. It has, however, remained for the Administration of Hongkong to cap affairs by openly teaching in its schools allegiance, not to the Queen but to the Emperor of China. The same idea of a doctrinaire cosmopolitanism, however, has pervaded the entire of the Colonial system. Government employment and Government office are open to all alike. The feeling of self-preservation would naturally, and almost instinctively, point out to a government the necessity of strengthening itself by requiring at least naturalisation as a condition of employment. In Hongkong we find the government practically carried on by aliens. We meet every day some of the effects of this, and the loose association of the higher government officials and the lower class of employés shows itself from time to time, not only in mal-administration, but in peculation. While, then, we cannot but admire the efforts of the Hongkong Government to spread education amongst its residents without regard to nationality, we cannot say much in favour of the method adopted. The system is in part most admirably calculated to sever all feelings of regard between the people and the Government, and to effectually prevent any common feelings of nationality springing up in the rising generation.—Shanghai Mercury.

THE CRISIS IN COREA.

Private telegrams from Japan placed at our disposal to-day (13th inst.) state that Japan rejects the overtures made to her in the Note from the Powers for a peaceful settlement of her difficulty with China. She fails to see how a quarrel with her big neighbour can concern any other nation. The situation, which was clearing for the past few days, is certainly more alarming to-day and the belief that war after all is the only solution of the difficulty is gaining ground in many quarters. The feeling of the Japanese against Russia is very bitter, and in the intensely-excited condition of the people it would undoubtedly precipitate a collision between the Government and the country if the troops returned from Korea after a fiasco. Telegrams to private Japanese residents advise them to close up their business with Chinese and prepare for the worst. But the Consulate here is without any specific instructions, though we hear that in the event of hostilities the American flag would be hoisted and the Japanese residents transferred to the care of the American Consulate. In like manner arrangements are being made for the transfer of Japanese commercial interests to American houses. Meantime the Japanese residents here have shown no disposition to run away as so many Chinese have already done from Yokohama and Kobe. There are at present about 150 Chinese here who have come over from Japan within the past fortnight in consequence of the panicky advice of their Consuls. We also learn that Mr Waeber, the Russian Minister to Korea, in the course of an interview which he had a fortnight ago with Li Hung-chang at the latter's invitation, expressed his strong disapproval of the Chinese Resident's action in sending for troops from China and at the Viceroy's precipitate conduct in despatching them without notifying the Japanese Government before the troops were actually on board at Tong-ku and Shanghai-kwan. Mr Waeber informed the Viceroy that there was never any danger to the Foreign residents from Korean rebels, which was Yuan's chief plea for Chinese military aid. We may take this occasion to refer to the absurd story published in the Chinese papers and reproduced in 'pidgin' English that the Chinese authorities had given orders that no Japanese man-of-war was to be allowed to pass Woosung. Such a statement is on the face of it idiotic and the Chinese officials are not such fools as to give an order which would be tantamount to an act of war.—China Gazette.

No prize was ever better won than the 50*l.* which have been paid to Joseph Morrison, of Bourbon County, Kentucky, who might well sing the easter ditty 'Up I comes with my little lot.' The reward was offered to that family, native to the State, who could show greatest height and weight. In response to this proclamation up came Joseph with his little lot. First there were himself, his wife, and their eldest son, each 6 ft. 4 in. tall; then James, 6 ft. 6 in.; then Sarah, 6 ft. 7 in.; then John, 6 ft. 11 in.; then the 'midget,' an insignificant child, 6 ft. 2 in.; then Elijah, 6 ft. 3 in.; then Eli, 6 ft. 4 in.; and lastly the youngest, aged fourteen, whose Benjamin's portion was 6 ft. 3 in. of height, and 169 lbs. of weight. The united weight of the father, mother, and eight children was only 55 lbs. short of a ton.

PEKING.

(N.-C. Daily News Correspondent.)

July 6.

The Russian Minister, His Excellency Count Cassini, with some of his suite, left ostensibly for Europe vid Japan and the Pacific; the Russian and Italian First Secretaries of Legation with Mr Bruce Hart left vid Siberia, both parties starting on the 17th of June. H.E. the British Minister has returned to the capital. The members of the German Legation left on the morning of the 30th for their summer quarters on the Western Hills. Some of the Tsungli Yamên officials gave a banquet in honour of Mr James Hart, who, with Mrs Hart, has since left the capital. Mr Grandmann has gone on a health trip to Japan. The missionary community are for the most part installed on the hills in their own houses for the summer. Mr Russell, of the astronomy and mathematical chair in the T'ung-wen College, has gone home vid India on a short furlough.

The Chinese at the capital seem much exercised over the Corean question. By some it is thought that China and Japan will come to blows over Corea, by others that the storm may blow over and that there are already rifts in the sky. The movement seems a genuinely good one, a desire on the part of the liberal and progressive party in Corea to place their country on a footing more of equality, as respects good government, with the Chinese open ports and Japan. The King is not unfavourable to a reform of the mandarinate, but is guided by some of the wealthy and powerful families who are content to see corruption and maladministration go on. Frequent interviews are said to take place at the Tsungli Yamên between some of the Foreign Ministers, and particularly the Japanese Chargé d'Affaires. The knowledge of the present condition of affairs in the peninsular kingdom has rapidly filtered down among the common people. This is not owing, on this occasion, to the information contained in the Shanghai local native press, but directly to the commotion in the yamêns. Japanese relations with Corea are of very old standing. The trade of the country is almost exclusively Japanese, and Japan's desire has always been to see Corea independent. Whether this is possible, surrounded by such powerful neighbours, is another question. What would doubtless have pleased Japan before the present embroglio broke out, would have been an international agreement whereby the independence of Corea was insured, something after the manner of Belgium, the political condition of which country, vis à vis her powerful neighbours, she somewhat resembles. Mr Waeber, the Russian Chargé d'Affaires, has been ordered to return to Corea, as his presence and advice are needed in the present strained relations between China and Japan. The Minister remains presumably at Tientsin for the present, although his return to the capital is not improbable.

NEWS BY THE CANADIAN MAIL.

THE FLOODS IN CANADA.

Vancouver, June 16.—Satisfactory reports are still being received from all points along the line of the C. P. R., and everything indicates that the great 'tie up' is at an end. Yesterday morning the first train for over a week was sent out at 6 o'clock, and was crowded with passengers, most of whom arrived here by the Aranui and Empress of Japan. It consisted of seven passenger coaches and two freight cars for the baggage and mails, about all the available rolling stock the C. P. R. have here at present. The Australian delegates had the private car Saskatchewan placed at their service, and the officials did everything in their power to make the passengers comfortable. A train is expected in from the East to-night, and by it a large amount of mails will be received. The trains are running to Mission and from there the passengers are transferred to Katz Landing by the steamer Wm. Irving.

A LINER ASHORE.

London, June 17.—The North German Lloyd steamer Stuttgart, from Bremen for Baltimore with 500 passengers and a large cargo, went ashore at 6 o'clock this morning half a mile east of Start Point, on the coast of Devonshire. There was a dense fog at the time and the steamer had been run at half speed for hours. The moment land was seen ahead the engines were reversed and were run full speed astern. Nevertheless the vessel grounded heavily on the sandy beach between two rocks. Aft she remained afloat. It was high water and the cargo was shifted aft as rapidly as possible for the purpose of lifting her bow off the bottom, but she remained fast. Tug boats which were summoned from Plymouth stood by her all day and the coast guard apparatus was held ready for use. About the middle of the afternoon Lloyds signal station sighted the North German Lloyd steamer Gera in the channel. She was boarded and the Stuttgart's predicament was explained to the captain. At 4.30 o'clock the Gera put in near the Stuttgart and ran out three hawsers. The first and second ones were failures, but with the third the Stuttgart was pulled off easily at 5 o'clock. She had made no water and sustained no damage. At 7 o'clock she and the Gera sailed away together. The Prawle Point lifeboat which had been near by since the forenoon went back to the station when the Gera arrived.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING.

Montreal, June 15.—Miss Cantlie, daughter of Mr James A. Cantlie and niece of Lord Mount-Stephen, was married in St. Paul's Church on Saturday to Dr Adams, of McGill College. Lord Mount-Stephen's present was a cheque for $50,000.

INTERNATIONAL REGATTA.

Berlin, June 18.—More than 200 yachts and 95 boats from warships have been entered for the Imperial international regatta at Kiel. Nine of these craft are English, nine Danish, two Swedish and one Austrian. The rest are German.

THE CHOYNSKY-FITZSIMMONS FIGHT.

Boston, (Mass.), June 18.—There was a great number of sporting men in the Boston theatre to see the 'go' between Joe Choynsky and Bob Fitzsimmons, which was announced to be for eight rounds and gate money. The men entered the ring at 9.40, Fitzsimmons touching the scale at 175 pounds and Choynsky at 162. The first round opened with a left lead by Fitzsimmons that missed and nearly went over Choynsky's shoulder. He then landed his right on Joe's ribs, and they clinched twice. Choynsky got in two raps on Fitzsimmon's nose, then both landed rights and lefts together. Fitzsimmons settled a hard right hander on Joe's ear just as time was called.

In the second round Fitzsimmons led the way working up on Joe's jaw twice. Then Choynsky rushed and sent his left and then his right on Bob's ribs. Lefts were freely exchanged. Then Fitz's strong right found a resting place on Joe's body, and Joe retaliated by pushing his left into Bob's face. Fitz missed a right hander as the round closed.

In the third round it was Joe who began the fun, but he slipped to the floor. Fitz tried to rush him but Joe met him with his right on the jaw, flooring him. Fitz was dazed but got up in less than ten seconds, and Joe forced him round the ring, landing with both hands at will. He had the latter groggy, but Fitz braced up and was coming up strong in the last of the round. Both men were tired in the fourth round, and Fitz forced the fighting, landing left jabs on the face and right on the ribs. Fitz forced Joe to the floor but he was up quickly. Fitz sent him down with a left and right on the wind and jaw. Joe was down but nine seconds, but Fitz kept after him and did great execution with both hands and floored Joe twice. The call of time alone saved Choynsky in this round.

At the beginning of the fifth round Fitz rushed Choynsky to the ropes again knocking him to the floor by a solid blow with the left. Joe was down nine seconds and when he was once more on his feet Fitz forced him all around the ring and with a left hander sent him down again. Joe arose quickly but it was apparent he was out-classed; Fitz landing repeatedly with both hands, and the police kindly interfered and stopped the fight, which was declared a draw.

THE NEW PARTY.

London, June 20.—A book urging the formation of a new party will be published to-morrow. It is intitled 'The New Party.' The editor, Mr. Andrew Reid, said in a chapter under the caption of 'Our policy,' that the coming party must be devoted to the cause of social reform, and will therefore be opposed to the existing parties. Nevertheless he is of the opinion that the Tories, whom he regards as more friendly to social reform than the Liberals, might be good allies for the present and a temporary alliance of them is recommended. Lady Henry Somerset's chapter appears under the caption of 'Women's Cause.' In referring to Mr. Gladstone's retirement, she remarks pointedly that this name was 'unsullied by the gambling turf.' He is a leader of the kind that the new party desires, she adds. Among the 26 other contributors to the book are William Pollard Byles, Liberal M.P.; Keir Hardie, Labor M.P.; Grant Allen and Sarah Grand. The majority advocate a strongly Socialistic programme.

TO ABOLISH THE CHINESE POLL TAX.

St. John, (N. B.), June 20.—At the Presbyterian General Assembly an overture was presented, signed by about half the Assembly, seeking co-operation with other churches in pressing the Government to remove the restrictions on Chinese immigration. A committee was appointed to carry out the prayer of overture. Moderator Mackay spoke of the Chinese, showing that many ideas of them are very wrong. Not one objection raised to Americans and Canadians had he heard while in Formosa. The question is simply one of right. He regretted with deep sorrow that Canada should pass such a law. The overture was passed by a standing vote.

TRAGEDY IN LONDON.

London, June 20.—A well dressed couple took a room on Monday evening at a second-class hotel in Westminster. They had breakfast in their bedroom yesterday morning. About noon a chambermaid was unable to enter the room, or get any response to repeated knocks. As there was no sound of life in the room, the proprietor became convinced that something was wrong, and had a porter enter the room by a window. The woman had gone and the man lay dead on the bed. An empty bottle, which had contained poison stood on the bureau. The dead man was identified to-day as Dr Tyler, son of Sir John William Tyler, Superintendent of Central Prisons, N. W. P., India, and at present a resident at Agra. The police have not yet found the woman.

BIG FIRE IN LONDON.

London, June 21.—Fire did some £250,000 worth of damage in the Finsbury district this evening. Twenty commercial houses and factories were destroyed. Fifty fire engines were called out, but all could not work to advantage on account to the narrowness of the streets. Had the fireman not been troubled at every turn by lack of room, they could undoubtedly have saved half the buildings. A large crowd filled the streets and alleys near the burning district and many narrowly escaped serious injury. The buildings occupied by these men were destroyed: Pataleone, confectioner; Chipper, engraver; Johnson & Co., sign writers; Wm. Harper, bookseller; Howes Bros., rope and twine; Stirk & Clark, organ Co.; Wm. Angus & Co., American merchants. Virtually the whole section bounded by Castle, Leonard and Tabernacle streets and the City road was destroyed.

ENCOUNTERED A WATERSPOUT.

New York, June 21.—The steamer Prince Wilhelm II., which arrived from Port Au Prince to-day, reports having a very narrow escape from being swamped by a waterspout. On Sunday last about noon, Second Officer Vandergoot was attracted by the lookout to a small speck on the horizon, which looked like a small brig. Five minutes later heavy rain clouds gathered in the north-east, directly over the object seen by the lookout. The Captain, who was below, was called on deck and at once saw that it was a waterspout, and was bearing directly down on the steamer. The ship's course was at once changed to east by north, but even that course did not seem to clear the ship. The waterspout was being carried along by the north-east squall and was moving first to one side and then to the other. When the spout was about a mile away, the wind shifted to the eastward and passed only about 300 feet away from the steamer. The Second Officer says the waterspout was fully 200 feet high and 40 feet wide at the base and if it had struck the steamer would have sunk her. The passengers were not alarmed, not knowing the danger they had been exposed to until it was all over.

A HEARTY WELCOME.

London, June 21.—The Daily Telegraph speaks editorially this morning of the trip of the Yale athletes to England, and assures them a hearty welcome. The writer thinks that the Oxford men are likely to win in the games, but warns them against over confidence, as 'the Americans may make them take a back seat as in yachting.' The Telegraph adds that the American athletes may feel sure of getting fairplay and hearty sympathy from the English public.

THE PROPOSED ARBITRATION TREATY.

London, June 22.—An address in favor of an arbitration treaty with the United States is circulating in the House of Commons. Already 300 members have signed it. Sir John Lubbock, Sir George Baden-Powell, and Messrs Philip James Stanhope and William R. Cremer, all members of the House, have cabled their congratulations to Senators Allison and Sherman. The Chronicle praises the resolution. 'It gives positive shape to pious wishes on both sides of the Atlantic,' says the writer, 'and we sincerely hope that these wishes will be realised.' The Telegraph's leader has the same friendly tone. The Pall Mall Gazette, says: 'Senator Allison's resolution means that if the United States should claim part of Canada we must submit, the question to some European power, without redress in case the matter should be decided against us. We must not forget that England is the most hated of all powers, and has the most to lose by arbitration.'

FUNERAL OF THE LATE CHIEF JUSTICE.

London, June 23.—A funeral service over the body of the late Lord Chief Justice Coleridge was held in Westminster Abbey to-day. The body was conveyed to the Abbey in an open hearse covered with flowers. After the service the body was taken to Ottery, County of Devon, for interment.

BIRTH OF THE HEIR PRESUMPTIVE.

London, June 23.—The Duchess of York gave birth to a boy at 9.55 this evening. At 10.30 a.m. despatches began to pour into London. Telegrams were sent at once to the Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales and to Home Secretary Asquith, who was staying at Moseley Park with Mr. Henry White, awaiting the call to represent the Government at the White Lodge. The Princess of Wales left London at once and the Prince followed her a little later. Mr Asquith immediately took the special train which has been waiting with the engine's steam up for more than a week and within 45 minutes he was at the house. An official was kept at the telephone almost without interruption through the rest of the day to inform the Queen of the Duchess' progress. The first news of the boy's birth reached Her Majesty before 10 o'clock or within five minutes after the Duchess was delivered. The official despatches were sent almost immediately. At the Mansion House the news was announced in a bulletin, which attracted a cheering crowd. Hundreds of congratulations are being received at White Lodge.

The birth of the baby was announced in several theatres this evening. The news was received with cheers and singing of the National Anthem.

PARLIAMENTARY NEWS.

London, June 23.—The persistent rumors that Sir William Harcourt has arranged with the leaders of the Opposition to wind up the session on certain terms are the veriest nonsense. Sir William retains the most perfect freedom of action and never permits himself to show his whole hand. All sides are beginning to recognize the fact that he is a far more skilful tactician than anybody supposed he was, and he does not submit to be beguiled by the Grand Old Man either. Besides passing a most momentous Budget, Sir William Harcourt is now likely to succeed in getting the Registration and Evicted Tenants' Bills through before the close of the session. His retirement from the leadership of the House of Commons at the end of the session is absolutely definite. The cause of the withdrawal is not poor health, for he looks as vigorous as a man of forty, and his eyesight, which has been bad, has of late improved greatly. There are many conflicting rumors as to his reasons for determining to retire, but the most probable reason is that he has become dissatisfied with his relations with his colleagues. He wants supreme control, and his imperious, and oftimes brusque manners, have frequently wounded the feelings of his associates who assumed to advise him. He desires a dissolution of Parliament immediately after the passage of the Budget and the Registration Bills. His intimates assert that he is resolved to bring about a dissolution in accordance with his wishes, and declare that his intention to retire will be carried out if his colleagues do not agree to a dissolution in the Autumn. The McCarthyites, on the other hand, are endeavoring to stave off a dissolution until their funds are in better shape. The report that £13,000 has been realised as a campaign fund is untrue. The total amount on hand yesterday was only £3,500 and this sum included the £1,000 received from Chicago. Ireland treats the appeals of the Irish parliamentarians with indifference and the bulk of the money they get must come from some other source.

ANTI-GAMBLING LEAGUE.

The Anti-Gambling League, after paying its respects to the Prime Minister for his connection with the turf, is turning its attention to Monte Carlo, where the League is secretly sending delegates to collect data to be used against the game and certain of its devotees. Meanwhile the tables at that resort are flourishing to a degree sufficient to induce the authorities of the Monte Carlo gambling establishment to build a branch at Laturbie, and an opposition company is about to erect a new Casino between Laturbie and Monaco.

THE CZAREWITCH'S VISIT.

The visit of the Czarewitch to London has not created the furore in society that might have been and doubtless was expected. Indeed, his presence has excited no interest whatever. The Czarewitch is staying with Louis of Battenburg, and makes a formal call every day upon his fiancee, Princess Alix at Windsor. The marriage of the Czarewitch and Princess Alix is definitely fixed to take place in St. Petersburg on September 20. The Czarewitch brought with him and presented to the Queen an autograph letter from the Czar urging Her Majesty to attend the wedding ceremony. The Queen has not decided whether she will go, but the Court would not be surprised if she went.

SHANGHAI SHARE REPORT.

In his weekly share report, dated Shanghai, 12th July, Mr Rattunjee says:—'The dulness mentioned in my last has prevailed during the past week, for business has remained slack and quotations have had a tendency to drift downwards. Still, no decline of any real importance has to be chronicled, and although buyers have temporarily settled upon their lees, the future is looked forward to with a fair degree of confidence. Banks.—Sales of Hongkong Banks continue to be reported at 100 per cent. prem., and ex. 73. Insurances.—Marine—All these stocks show a slight weakness owing to the purely nominal quotations received from Hongkong, which are lower than ours, but at the same time they are unable to sell to us at their rates. Locally, Yangtzees and Straits have been dealt in at $70 and $13.50 respectively. In Fire.—Chinas have been sold at $80. Shipping.—Indo-Chinas have been sold to Hongkong at the equivalent of Tls. 24.25, which is all the business reported under this heading. It is reported that this Company will pay a dividend of 24 per cent. for 1893. Cargo Boats.—Sales of Co-ops at Tls. 95 have been effected. Wharves and Docks.—In Wharf shares Hongkews have been parted with at Tls. 215 and at Tls. 217.50, and a small lot of Birts at Tls. 37. In Docks, Farnhams have been the medium of business resulting in sales at Tls. 210 and at Tls. 212. Mining.—Quite out of favor. Lands.—Shanghais have again changed hands at Tls. 33. This Company advertises a dividend of 3 per cent. for the past six months payable on the 21st inst. Miscellaneous.—Waterworks met with a slight decline, and a transaction at Tls. 166 was reported, but to-day the former quotations of Tls. 167.50 has again been established. Majors found buyers at Tls. 35. Loans and Debentures.—Waterworks have fetched Tls. 103, and Sumatras ($70) par value, both plus accrued interest.
